

1.6 JPO - Environment and Innovation Officer – Cairo, Egypt

Support IOM Egypt Country Office exchanges and contributions to environment and innovation related initiatives, including coordination with IOM Regional Office and Headquarters and other stakeholders (Governmental of Egypt, United Nations, development Partners, implementing partners, etc.); Support knowledge development through desk review and evidence-based analysis by assisting in the development of information sheets, concept notes and talking points on the nexus of migration and environment and the possible role of innovation; Contribute to the formulation of strategies and activities to engage with new partners based on needs assessment and through identification of synergies with the activities of the Country Office; Support the knowledge enhancement/management in the Country Office with regards to the topics of environment and innovation; Act as a Focal Point with regards to the role of new technologies and innovation in the response of environmental induced migration challenges and opportunities: contribute to document the topic and monitor worldwide and national developments, provide analysis and propose actions tailored to the national context and, contribute to enhancing partnerships on the topic; Maintain strong contacts with other UN agencies, academic institutions, think tanks, and collaborating partners with regards to the topic of environmental induced migration and innovation; Provide technical support to the programmes which relate to migration, environment and climate change; Participate to UN Working Group on Climate Change and the Joint Team for Digital Transformation and Innovation (JDTI).